IMPORTANT NOTE

This guide is intended as an easy reference, pocket-sized guide for directors, shareholders, company officers and any other stakeholder who has an interest in corporate governance.

The information contained herein is a summary of some of the key duties and responsibilities for Directors and officers of companies to take cognisance of in relation to the new Companies Act, 2008 (“the Act”), the Companies Amendment Act, 2011, as well as the Companies Regulations, 2011. Where appropriate we have indicated where King 111 could give amplification.

The Act was signed by the President on the 09th April 2009 and gazetted in Gazette No. 32121 (Notice No. 421) and came into operation on 1 May 2011.

The Companies Amendment Act, 2011 purports to rectify certain provisions of the Act so as to ensure its improved administration, and establish a proper foundation for certain necessary Regulations.

The Companies Regulations, 2011 provide implementation detail on certain parts of the Act.

The Amendment Act and Regulations came into effect on the general effective date of the Act. The Act should thus be read together with the Amendment Act and Regulations.

While the Act sets out legislation that must be complied with, King 111 is a guideline of best practice. We have included a brief overview of the King 111 Code and Report.

We recommend that professional advice be sought before making any decisions based on this guide’s contents or when dealing with any matters relating thereto.

All references to the masculine gender shall include the feminine (and vice versa).

While every care has been taken in the compilation of this guide, no responsibility of any nature whatsoever shall be accepted for any inaccuracies, errors or omissions.

INTRODUCTION

- The Act, Amendment Act together with the Regulations completely replace the Companies Act of 1973. The Close Corporations Act, 1984 has been amended as provided for in Schedule 5. Together with the King 111 Code and Report implemented on 1 March 2010 – “this is the most fundamental reform of company law for over 30 years” – Tshediso Matona (Director General of the Department of Trade & Industry (DTI));
- The Act was formed against the backdrop of a general Corporate Reform Policy, published by the DTI in 2004, its vision being that “company law should promote the competitiveness and development of the South African economy:
 - ◆ by encouraging entrepreneurship; and
 - ◆ employment opportunities by simplifying the procedures for forming companies and reducing costs associated with the formalities of forming a company;
- The purposes of the Act and King 111 are, inter alia, to promote compliance with the Bill of Rights as provided for in the Constitution in the application of company law, to encourage transparency and high standards of corporate governance and provide for the balancing of rights and obligations of shareholders and directors.
- Throughout the text, specific reference is made to the sections of “the Amendment Act” or “the Regulations” where applicable, otherwise any reference to a section in general means that it is in reference to the Companies Act, 2008, or “the Act”.

DIRECTORS, PRESCRIBED OFFICERS AND MEMBERS

1. GENERAL INFORMATION AND CATEGORIES OF COMPANIES

Categories of companies

A company can be either a for profit company or a non-profit company (NPC). Refer to Table H on page 47 for a detailed description of the different categories of companies as per the Companies Act 2008 (“the Act”).

DIRECTORSHIP – NATURE

1. The directors of a company are the key people entrusted by law with the function of administering the company and are central to ensuring good corporate governance in the company;
2. Different types of directors: executive and non-executive and alternate directors. All carry the equal responsibility to ensure that the company complies with the law and is properly governed;
3. Executive directors are salaried and involved with the day to day running of the company, and alternate directors are appointed to act on behalf of a director when (s)he cannot personally fulfill his/her duties;
4. Many executive directors enter into a fixed term service agreement with the company, which further regulates their relationship with the company. The King 111 Report recommends that the term of these contracts should not exceed 3 years;
5. The “Board” refers to the collective word used to designate directors when they act together as a group;
6. The director functions as both a trustee and a consultant i.e (s)he is required to have the experience, skill, time and ability necessary to carry out his/her functions effectively, and should place the interests of the company first;
7. At common law, directors owe fiduciary duties and obligations of care and skill to the company, which are similar to that of a trustee;
8. The directors are not personally liable for the debts of the company;
9. Under certain circumstances, however, the corporate identity of the company is disregarded e.g where the business is being conducted recklessly or with intent to defraud, (refer to page 26) and the persons responsible (usually a director) may become personally liable for the debts of the company (see page 30).

2. DEFINITION OF DIRECTOR EXTENDED

- The definition of “director” in the Act includes a member of the Board of a company or an alternate director;
- For purposes of those sections which deal with qualification, eligibility (S69), Directors Code of Conduct (S76), Liability (S77), and Indemnity and Insurance (S78), the definition is extended to include an alternate director, prescribed officer (see definition below*), a person who is a member of a committee of the Board or the Audit Committee (irrespective of whether or not the person is also a member of the company’s board);
- The Section relating to Indemnification and Insurance also applies to a former director;
- For purposes of Section 75 (Directors personal financial interests), the definition is extended to include an alternate director, prescribed officer, person who is a member of a committee of the Board (irrespective of whether the person is also a member of the company’s board), and also a “related person” when used in reference to a director, has the meaning set out in Section 1 (see Table E on page 44), but also includes a second company of which the director or a related person is also a director, or a CC of which the director or a related person is a member. Section 75 does not apply to a member of an audit committee (per Section 48 of the Amendment Act);
- Those designated officers, as described above will be subject to the same duties of care, skill and diligence and to the fiduciary duties applicable to directors, will be subject to the same standards of conduct as directors and will be held jointly and severally liable with directors. The MOI and any additional rules are also specifically binding between the company and such officers;

*Definition of Prescribed Officer:

- Section 1 of the Amendment Act states that a prescribed officer can be defined as a person who within a company, performs any function that has been designated by the Minister in terms of section 66(10);
- Regulation 38 sets out the definition of a prescribed officer of a company (despite not being a director) for all purposes of the Act as follows:
if that person:-
 - a) exercises general executive control over the management of the whole, or a significant portion, of the business and activities of the company, or
 - b) regularly participates to a material degree in the exercise of general effective control over, and management of the whole, or a significant portion, of the business and activities of the company;
- The Regulation applies to such a person irrespective of any particular title given by the company to –
 - a) an office held by that person in the company, or
 - b) a function performed by the person for the company.

3. APPOINTMENT AND DISMISSAL OF DIRECTORS

Appointment of directors and the Board (Sections 66 and 68)

- Only natural persons with legal capacity are eligible to be appointed as Directors to the Board;
- For Profit Companies (private or personal liability company): One or more directors required to be appointed;
- Public (Limited) and Non-Profit Companies: Three or more are required, in addition to the minimum number of directors that the company must have to satisfy any requirement, whether in terms of the Act or its MOI, to appoint an audit committee, or a social and ethics committee (per Section 44 of the Amendment Act);
- The MOI may provide for a higher minimum number of directors than those required by the Act;
- Section 66(4) provides that the MOI may:
 - (a)(i) provide for the direct appointment (or removal) of Director(s) to the Board, by any person named therein, and
 - (ii) may also provide that for a person to be an ex officio director as a consequence of that person holding some other office, title, designation or similar status;
 - (iii) the appointment or election of alternate director(s) to the company;
- Section 66(4)(b) – A profit company however (other than a SOC Ltd) must provide for the election by shareholders of at least 50% of the directors, and 50% of any alternate directors;
- Section 66(11) – A failure by a company at any time to have the minimum number of directors does not limit or negate the authority of the Board or invalidate anything done by the Board or the company;
- Section 66(12) – inserted by the Amendment Act: Any particular director may be appointed to more than one committee and when calculating the minimum number of directors required for a company, any such director who has been appointed to more than one committee must be counted only once.

Election of Directors of Profit Company's

- Section 68 (1): Each director of a profit company [other than the first directors or a director contemplated in S66(4)(a)(i) or (ii)] – see above – must be elected by the persons entitled to exercise voting rights in such an election, to serve for an indefinite term, or for a term as set out in the MOI;
- Section 68(2) Unless the MOI provides otherwise, in any election of directors of a profit company, (a) the election is to be conducted as a series of votes each of which is on the candidacy of a single individual to fill a single vacancy with the series of votes continuing until all vacancies on the board at that time have been filled and (b) in each vote to fill a vacancy, (i) each voting right entitled to be exercised may be exercised once, and (ii) the vacancy is filled only if a majority of voting rights exercised support the candidate;

- King 111 recommends that the majority of Directors should be non-executive directors so as to ensure that the Board operates independently and is not an extension of the day to day management of the company;
- Prior to accepting an appointment, a Director should carefully consider whether (s)he has the necessary expertise to act as a Director, given the size, nature and complexity of the company [King 111 recommends that where a director lacks experience, a detailed induction and formal mentoring and support programme should be implemented];
- Decisions of the Board shall be valid even if the number of directors is below the minimum set out by the Act or the MOI. A director may be appointed on a temporary basis.

Non-eligible and disqualified directors (Section 69)

- ◆ The Act sets out qualifications and disqualifications of Directors;
- ◆ Section 69 specifically states that a company may in its MOI impose additional grounds of ineligibility or disqualification on its directors, and set out minimum qualifications to be met by directors of that company;
- ◆ A company must not knowingly permit an ineligible or disqualified person to serve or act as a director;
- ◆ A person who becomes ineligible or disqualified while serving as a director of a company ceases to be entitled to continue to act as a director immediately, subject to Section 70(2);
- ◆ A person is ineligible if the person is -
 - A juristic person;
 - An unemancipated minor or under similar legal disability; or
 - Does not satisfy any qualification set out in the MOI;
- ◆ The Act sets out disqualifications as follows:
- ◆ Section 69(8)(a):
 - a person who has been declared a delinquent or a court has prohibited that person to be a director (or member of a CC) – refer to Section 4 on page 9;
- ◆ Section 69(8)(b):

- 1 an unrehabilitated insolvent;
- 2 is prohibited in terms of any public regulation to be a director;
- 3 any person removed from an office of trust because of misconduct involving dishonesty;
- 4 any person convicted of offences in the Republic or elsewhere, and imprisoned without the option of a fine, or fined more than the prescribed amount, for fraud, theft, forgery, perjury or an offence involving fraud, misrepresentation or dishonesty or in connection with the promotion, formation or management of a company or under this Act, the Insolvency Act, CC's Act, Competition Act, FICA, Security Services Act, Prevention and Combating of Corruption Activities Act. [Regulation 39(4) – the prescribed minimum value of a fine upon conviction for these offences which would result in automatic disqualification as per this point 4 is R1 000].

- The disqualifications listed in 3 and 4 in the block on the previous page will end at the later of five years after the date of removal from office or the completion of any sentence imposed for the relevant offence, or at the end of one or more extensions as determined by a court;
- Note: on application, a court may exempt a person from the application of any of the provisions listed in the block above [S69(8)(b)];
- Section 69(11A) – inserted by the Amendment Act – The Registrar of the Court must upon (a) the issue of a sequestration order (b) the issue of an order for the removal of a person from any office of trust on the grounds of misconduct involving dishonesty, or (c) a conviction for an offence referred in the block on page 7, send a copy of the relevant order or particulars of the conviction to the Commission.

Resignation/Dismissal/Removal of Directors (Section 71)

- Directors may resign by tendering a letter of resignation;
- The shareholders retain the right to remove directors from the Board by ordinary resolution adopted at a shareholders meeting by the persons entitled to exercise voting rights in an election of that director, provided that director has been given notice of the meeting and the resolution, and has been afforded a reasonable opportunity to make a presentation in person or through a representative to the meeting, before the resolution is put to vote;
- Under certain specific circumstances, the Board (as long as the company has more than two directors) may remove a director without shareholder approval – Section 71(3) provides that where a director or shareholder alleges that a director has become disqualified or ineligible [other than on the grounds per Section 69(8)(a)], incapacitated, or has neglected or been derelict in performance of the functions of a director, the Board may remove that director.

Section 137(5): Removal of director during business rescue proceedings:

- At any time during business rescue proceedings, the business rescue practitioner may apply to a court for an order removing a director from office on the grounds that the director has (a) failed to comply with the requirements of Chapter 6, or (b) by act or omission, has impeded or is impeding (i) the practitioner in the performance of his/her powers and functions (ii) the management of the company by the practitioner, or (iii) the development or implementation of a business rescue plan.

King 111 and the composition of the Board:

- Paragraph 80 of Chapter 2 of the King 111 Report confirms Section 71 of the Act and states that the shareholders should bear the ultimate responsibility for the composition of the Board;
- However, in a seeming contradiction, Paragraph 79 of Chapter 2 recommends that the company's MOI should allow the Board to remove any director from the Board, including executive directors, and that shareholder approval should not be necessary for these decisions (provided this is included in the MOI).

4. PROBATION AND DELINQUENCY

The Act introduces a remedy to shareholders and other stakeholders (namely the company, a shareholder, director, company secretary, prescribed officer, a registered trade union that represents employees of the company or other representative of the employees) to hold directors accountable by an application to Court, to : declare a director delinquent (and thus prohibited from being a director) or under probation (and restricted from serving as a director in terms of the conditions of the probation). Refer Tables A and B on pages 40 and 41 for specific provisions relating to these applications;

- The director in question must be a current director of the company or within the twenty four months immediately preceding the application, was a director of the company;
- The Commission will keep a register of all those persons declared delinquent or on probation.

5. DUTIES, RESPONSIBILITIES AND RIGHTS OF DIRECTORS

Some key rights and powers of directors can be listed as follows:

5.1 RIGHTS

- to discharge their duties without interference from co-directors;
- receive reasonable notice of meetings;
- claim reimbursement for expenses incurred;
- inspect the company's accounting records, assisted by an accountant;
- take independent professional advice at the expense of the company;
- participate in the strategic management of the company and attend and vote at board meetings.

5.2 POWERS

Some of the Sections in the Act which empower directors to act are as follows:

- Section 66 – unfettered powers:
 - ◆ Directors have unfettered discretion to manage the company (except to the extent that the Act or the MOI provides otherwise);
- Section 15: To make additional rules:
 - ◆ Except to the extent that a company's MOI provides otherwise, the Board may make, amend or repeal any necessary or incidental rules relating to the governance of the company in respect of matters not addressed in the Act or the MOI – by publishing a copy of its rules to the shareholders and filing a copy thereof with the Commission [Regulation 16 – this must be done within 10 business days of being published]. These additional rules require shareholder approval before they may become permanent (see page 17).

- Section 21: To ratify Pre-Incorporation contracts:
 - ◆ A person may enter into a written agreement in the name of the company that is contemplated to be incorporated but does not exist at the time – within three months of the date on which the company was incorporated, the Board may completely, partially or conditionally ratify or reject that contract. Regulation 35 – the company must within five business days file a notice of the decision with the Commission and deliver a copy to each party to the contract or materially affected by the transaction.
- Section 38: To issue shares:
 - ◆ The Board has the power to issue shares* – {however see page 17 re shareholder approval required for issuing shares in certain cases – Section 41}.

{*reference to “shares” includes securities convertible into shares or a grant of options contemplated in s42 or a grant of any other rights exercisable for securities}.

- Section 129: To resolve to institute business rescue proceedings:
 - ◆ The Board has the authority to resolve that the company voluntarily begin business rescue proceedings and place the company under supervision. King 111 recommends that Directors should be aware of the practicalities of business rescue;
 - ◆ If the board has reasonable grounds to believe that (a) the company is financially distressed and (b) there appears to be a reasonable prospect of rescuing the company;
 - ◆ Such resolution must be filed with the Commission before it is of any force or effect;
 - ◆ Refer to page 26 (reckless trading – directors are duty bound to constantly monitor the company’s financial position).
- Sections 44–46: Actions of Directors relating to provision of financial assistance – provided certain conditions are met:

A Directors may authorise provision of financial assistance for the subscription of securities under certain conditions (Section 44):

- The board may authorise the company (subject to the MOI) to provide financial assistance* (see definition on next page) by way of a loan, guarantee, the provision of security or otherwise to any person for the purpose of or in connection with the subscription of any option, or any securities, issued or to be issued by the company or a related or inter-related company (see definition of related or inter-related persons in Table E on page 44) or for the purchase of any securities of the company or a related or inter-related company, subject to the requirements set out in Table G on page 46 relating to conditions and consequences of lending financial assistance.

B Loans or other financial assistance to directors (Section 45):

- A company may not give direct or indirect financial assistance (i.e provide a loan to or secure a debt or obligation) to a director or prescribed officer of a company or of a related or inter-related company or CC, or to a person related to any such company, CC or director – i.e the Board may not authorise it unless it meets the requirements as set out in Table G on page 46.

C Authorisation of distributions (Section 46):

- No distribution may be made by the company unless it is pursuant to an existing legal obligation of the company or a court order or has been authorised by the board by resolution and immediately after giving effect to the authorisation it reasonably appears that the company would satisfy the solvency and liquidity test (see Table D on page 43), and the board resolution acknowledges that the board has applied the solvency and liquidity test and reasonably concluded that the company will satisfy that test immediately after completing the proposed distribution;
- A director of a company is liable to the extent set out in S77(3)(e)(vi) – if the director :
 - ◆ was present at the meeting when the board approved a distribution as contemplated herein or participated in the making of such a decision in terms of section 74, and failed to vote against the distribution despite knowing that the distribution was contrary to Section 46.

{Note: “financial assistance” in Section 44 and 45 does not include lending money in the ordinary course of business by a company whose primary business is the lending of money and additionally in re Section 45 includes lending money, guaranteeing a loan or other obligation and securing any debt or obligation, but does not include an accountable advance to meet legal expenses to be incurred by the person on behalf of the company or an amount to defray the persons expenses from removal at the company’s request}.*

- Section 48: Company or subsidiary acquiring company’s shares (amended by Section 32 of Amendment Act):
 - ◆ The Board of a company may determine that the company will acquire a number of its own shares, and the board of a subsidiary company may determine that it will acquire shares of its holding company, subject to the following:
 - a) as long as the decision to do so satisfies the requirements of Section 46;
 - b) if any shares are to be acquired by the company from a director or prescribed officer of the company or a person related to same, then the decision must be approved by special resolution of the shareholders of the company;
 - c) such decision of the Board is subject to the requirements of Sections 114 and 115, if, considered alone, or together with other transactions in an integrated series of transactions, it involves the acquisition by the company of more than 5% of the issued shares of any particular class of the company’s shares.

Note: The company may not acquire its own shares, and a subsidiary of a company may not acquire shares of that company, if as a result of that acquisition, there would no longer be any shares of the company in issue other than (a) shares held by one or more subsidiaries of the company or (b) convertible or redeemable shares.

- ◆ A director of a company is liable to the extent set out in Section 77(3)(e)(vii) if that director was present at a meeting when the board approved the acquisition and failed to vote against it despite knowing that the acquisition was contrary to Section 46 or 48.

Refer to page 31 for more detail regarding the liability of Directors in relation to these sections.

5.3 COMMON LAW DUTIES

Some of the common law duties of directors are:

A The fiduciary duties to:

- To act bona fide in the interests of the company;
- To exercise powers for their proper purpose;
- To exercise independent judgement in decision making;
- Not to use corporate property information or opportunities for personal profit;

B The duty to exercise care and skill;

C The duty to prevent any conflict of interest;

A breach of any of the above results in the director being liable to the company for any damages it sustains as a result.

- The Act incorporates many of the duties which were previously considered to be common law duties. However it does not exclude those common law duties that are not expressly amended by the Act or those that are not in conflict with it.

5.4 STATUTORY DUTIES

A Accountability and Transparency

A.1 Retention of records and making them available to shareholders

- Any documents, accounts, books, writing, records or other information that a company is required to keep in terms of the Act or any other public regulation must be kept in written form; or
- In a form or manner that allows the documents and information that comprise the records to be convertible into written form within a reasonable time for a period of at least seven years or any longer period of time specified in any other applicable public regulation;
- Section 24(3) states that every company must maintain –
 - ◆ S24(3)(a): a copy of its MOI, any amendments or alterations to it, and any rules of the company made in terms of Sections 15(3)–(5);
 - ◆ S24(3)(b): a record of its directors including all the information required by S24(5) – see page 13, Regulation 23 – in respect of each current director at any particular time and with respect to each past director, the information must be retained for seven years after the past director retired from the company;
 - ◆ S24(3)(c): copies of all reports presented at an annual general meeting of the company, annual financial statements and accounting records required by this Act, for a period of seven years;
 - ◆ S24(3)(d): notice and minutes of shareholders meetings including resolutions adopted and any document made available by the company to the holders of securities in relation to each resolution for seven years after the date each such resolution was adopted;
 - ◆ S24(3)(e): copies of any written communications sent generally by the company to all holders of any class of the company's securities for seven years after the date of the issue of the communication;
 - ◆ S24(3)(f): minutes of all meetings and resolutions of directors or directors committees or the audit committee for seven years after the date of the meeting or after such resolution was adopted;

- S24(4): In addition every company must maintain a securities register or its equivalent as required by Section 50 in the case of a profit company, or a members register in the case of a non-profit company, that has members and also the records required in terms of Section 85 (where applicable);
- Regulation 22 states that a company must notify the Commission of the location or of any change in the location of any company records that are not located at its registered office;
- See Table J on page 48 for requirements if securities register and/or accounting records are kept in electronic format.

ACCESS TO INFORMATION

- Shareholders have extensive rights to obtain information from the company, including access to the securities register and minutes of directors meetings;
- Section 26 of the Act states that a person who holds or has a beneficial interest in any securities issued by a profit company or who is a member of a non-profit company has a right to inspect and copy without any charge for any such inspection or upon payment of no more than the prescribed maximum charge for any such copy, the information contained in the records of the company, as are specifically listed in Section 24(3) and (4) of the Act;
- Any other person has a right to inspect or copy the securities register of a profit company, or the members register of a non-profit company that has members, or the register of directors upon payment of an amount not exceeding the prescribed maximum fee for any such inspection;
- Any such right of access may be exercised only in accordance with The Promotion of Access to Information Act 2000.

Regulation 23 sets out in detail the information to be kept concerning directors [in addition to the information required by Section 24(5)]. The regulation states that with respect to each director, the company must keep a record of addresses for service, and in the case of a company that is required to have an audit committee any professional qualifications and experience of the director, to the extent necessary to enable the company to comply with Section 94(5) and Regulation 42;

This information is over and above that information required by Section 24(5), which states that a company's record of directors must include in respect of each director, that persons full name, former names, identity number or date of birth, (if not a SA, then passport number and nationality), occupation, date of most recent election as director, name and registration number of every other company or foreign company of which the person is a director and any other prescribed information;

King 111 expands on this requirement;

Where a company receives a request for access, it must within 14 business days comply with the request. It is an offence for a company to fail to accommodate any reasonable request or otherwise interfere with, impede, frustrate such a person's right (also in regard to access to financial statements – Section 31).

A.2 Registered office

- Every company and external company must have a registered office and maintain their documents at that office and indicate such in its Notice of Incorporation; and
- file a Notice of Change of Registered Office with the Commission if the address changes from time to time (subject to the requirements of the MOI) (Refer Regulation 21).

A.3 Annual returns

- Annual returns are required to be submitted by every category of company including external companies in the prescribed form with the prescribed fee and within 30 business days after the anniversary date of its date of incorporation (in the case of a company that was incorporated in the Republic, or the date that its registration was transferred to the Republic, in the case of a domesticated company) and together with the supplementary documents as follows (Regulation 30):
 - 1) companies required to have their financial statements audited must file a copy of the latest approved audited financial statements on the date it files its annual return, and if not yet approved, within twenty business days after the board approves those statements;
 - 2) A company that is not required in terms of the Act or Regulation 28 to have its annual financial statements audited, may file a copy of its audited or reviewed statements together with its annual return;
 - 3) a company that is not required to file annual financial statements in terms of (2) above or a company that does not elect to file a copy of its audited or reviewed annual financial statements in terms of sub-regulation (3), must file a financial accountability supplement to its annual return in Form CoR 30.2;
 - 4) Each year, in its annual return, every company must designate a director, employee or other person who is responsible for the company's compliance with the transparency and accountability provisions in the Act.

A.4 Registered use of name and number

- A company or external company must ensure that its registered name and number are clearly stated in legible characters in all notices and other official publications of the company including those in electronic format, and in all bills of exchange, promissory notes, cheques and orders for money or goods, and in all letters, delivery notes, invoices, receipts and letters of credit of the company. It is an offence to mislead the public in this regard.

B Maintaining and Keeping of Accounting Records

It is the duty of directors to ensure that all necessary records are kept by the company at its registered office;

Regulation 25(3) sets out what is required to be included in the accounting records of a company, and can be summarised as follows:

- a) A record of the company's assets and liabilities including but not limited to:
 - (i) Register of company's non-current assets;
 - (ii) a record of any loan by the company to a shareholder, director, prescribed officer or employee of the company or to a person related to any of them;
 - (iii) a record of any liabilities and obligations of the company;
- b) Record of any property held by the company in a fiduciary capacity or in any capacity or manner contemplated in S65(2) of the Consumer Protection Act 2008;
- c) If the company trades in goods – a record of inventory and stock in trade;
- d) Record of company's revenue and expenditure including daily records of all money received and paid out;

If such records are kept in electronic format, the provisions set out in Table J on page 48 must be complied with.

Regulation 25(4) states that non-profit companies must maintain adequate records of all revenue received from donations, grants and member's fees, or in terms of funding contracts or arrangements with any party.

C Provide for the proper conduct of audit or independent review

Directors are obliged to comply with Sections 28–30 of the Act and Regulations 26–29.

D Annual financial statements and financial statements

It is the duty of directors to cause the financial statements or annual financial statements of the company to be made out and laid before the company. Refer to page 22 (required to be approved by the Board before circulated to shareholders, and published).

E Directors Report

Section 30(3), page 23.

F Business Rescue duties – S137

- King 111 and Section 129 of the Act.

G Codified Regime of Directors Duties – Section 76

- A codified regime of directors' duties is introduced in the Act –which operates in addition to existing common law duties;
- Section 76 states that a director must exercise the powers and perform the functions of director in good faith and for proper purpose, in the best interests of the company and with a degree of care, skill and diligence that may reasonably be expected of such a person. See Table C on page 42 for an expansion of Section 76;
- King 111 recommends that the duties listed in S76 extend to members of committees (even if not a member of the board).

H Disclosure of Personal Financial Interests: Section 75

- A director (including one appointed as a member of a Board Committee), is required to disclose his personal financial interest in respect of a matter to be considered at a meeting of the board (this is also applicable to a related person to him and to an alternate director and prescribed officer);
- He must disclose his interest before it is considered by a meeting of the Board [as set out in Section 75(4)] and recuse himself by leaving the meeting, without taking part in the discussion;
- This section does not apply to certain directors in certain circumstances [see item (e) on Table F on page 45 and Section 75(2)].
- Section 75(7) – as amended by the Amendment Act: A decision by the Board, or transaction or agreement approved by the Board is valid despite any personal financial interest of the director or person related to him only if it was approved following disclosure of that interest or despite there being lack of disclosure, the decision was subsequently ratified by ordinary resolution of the shareholders following disclosure of that interest or has been declared valid by a court (on application by any interested person).

I Other Duties

1.1 Duties in terms of the Memorandum of Incorporation

- The Regulations provide a standard set of MOI that companies may use as a basis but may amend to meet their specific needs. The directors should familiarise themselves with the contents thereof since it will invariably impose duties, limitations and/or powers on directors.

1.2 Compliance with legislation

Additionally a director must also take note of the following:

- Industry or sector specific legislation;
- Listed companies must adhere to JSE securities exchange regulations;
- The South African Income Tax Act;
- The Labour Relations act;
- The Occupational Health and Safety Act;
- The Employment Equity Act;
- Promotion of Access to Information Act;
- Financial Intelligence Centre Act;
- Trade Marks Act;
- Business Names Act;
- Consumer Protection Act;
- Electronic Communications and Transactions Act;
- National Credit Act;
- Basic Conditions of Employment Act;
- Non-binding rules, codes, standards if it would constitute good governance and practice – King 111.

1.3 Corporate governance minimum guidelines and recommendations per King 111 (see pages 35-38).

5.5 RESPONSIBILITIES – DECISION MAKING AND DELEGATION

- Shareholders do retain ultimate responsibility for the company and have the power to remove or not to re-appoint directors, however, they do delegate the day to day running of the company to directors, who in turn, appoint and supervise management;
- While many of their duties can be delegated to management, the directors retain overall responsibility over management, and have a duty to monitor management's performance;
- It is the directors' responsibility to ensure the smooth running of the company.

6. ACTIONS REQUIRING SHAREHOLDER APPROVAL

Shareholder approval is required for certain transactions carried out by Directors, including (but not limited to):

A Section 112: Disposal of greater part of assets or undertaking

The directors shall not have the power save by virtue of a special resolution (passed in accordance with Section 115) by the shareholders to dispose of the whole or greater part of the undertaking of the company, or the whole or greater part of the assets of the company (see definition on page 38);

Such special resolution is effective only to the extent it authorises a specific transaction. Any part of the undertaking or assets of a company to be disposed of must be fairly valued, as calculated in the prescribed manner, as at the date of the proposal, which date must be determined in the prescribed manner.

B Amendment of MOI

- A company's MOI can be amended by resolution if the amendment is:
 - ◆ Proposed by the Board or by shareholders entitled to exercise at least 10% of the voting rights that may be exercised on such a resolution and the shareholders by formal or informal special resolution (see definition on page 39) approve the proposed amendment (this second requirement is not applicable to NPC's – that have no voting members);
 - ◆ A company's MOI may provide for different requirements with respect to proposals for amendments.

{Note: the MOI may also be amended in compliance with a court order (proposed by a board resolution) or in a manner contemplated in Section 36(3) and (4)}.

C Section 41: Shareholder approval required for issuing shares in certain cases:

- S41(1): An issue of shares* must be approved by a special resolution of the shareholders of a company if they are issued to: (a) a current or future director or current or future prescribed officer of the company, (b) person related or inter-related to the company or to a director or prescribed officer or (c) a nominee of any of the above subject to certain exceptions [Section 41(2)];
- S41(3): An issue of shares* requires approval of the shareholders by special resolution if the voting power of the class of shares that are issued or issuable as a result of the transaction will be equal to or exceed 30% of the voting power of all the shares of that class held by the shareholders immediately before the transaction.

{*or securities convertible into shares, or a grant of options contemplated in Section 42, or a grant of any other rights exercisable for securities}

{reference to "transaction" includes a series of integrated transactions}

- Refer to page 30 on directors liability for description of consequences of transgression of this section for directors. Section 41(5) – refer to Section 77(3)(e)(ii) as amended;

D Section 15: Shareholder approval required to make additional rule permanent.

- A rule is binding on an interim basis until it is put to a vote at the next general shareholders meeting and permanently only if it has been ratified by an ordinary resolution at such meeting;
- Once ratified, the MOI (and any rules of the company) are binding between the company and the shareholder(s) and between the shareholders themselves (if more than one) and between the company and each director or prescribed officer or any other person serving the company as a member of a committee of the board. If not ratified, the Board may not make a substantially similar rule within the ensuing 12 months, unless approved in advance by ordinary resolution (see definition on page 39) of the shareholders;
- Section 15(5A) – inserted by Amendment Act: Any failure to ratify the rules of a company does not affect the validity of anything done in terms of those rules during the period that they had an interim effect;

The company's MOI can also list additional scenarios when shareholder approval will be required for director actions. As long as the MOI is consistent with the Act, a company may tailor its MOI in such a way as to limit directors actions substantially by increasing shareholder activism.

General Ratification by Shareholders of Directors' Actions:

Section 20 (2) – (3): The shareholders may ratify by special resolution any action by a company or the directors that is inconsistent with any limitations, restrictions or qualifications listed in the MOI of the company – (however such action cannot be ratified if it is in contravention of the Act);

- Thus the duty to act intra vires (acting within one's legal power or authority) requires that a director must ensure that (s)he act on behalf of the company only to the extent permitted by the powers and authority conferred upon him/her by law, the company's statutes (the MOI), the shareholders, and fellow directors;
- Where a director acts ultra vires, (acting beyond one's legal power or authority) the shareholders may ratify the transaction retrospectively by special resolution (as per above) or may elect to repudiate the action, whereupon the erring director may be held personally liable to the company for any loss suffered by the company as a result thereof;
- Refer to page 29 – remedies for shareholders [Section 20(4) and (5)].

7. RING-FENCED AND PERSONAL LIABILITY COMPANY'S – DOCTRINE OF CONSTRUCTIVE NOTICE

- Under the previous Act the public was deemed to be fully acquainted with the Memorandum and Articles of the company, and consequently any limitation of powers of the directors – in other words they are deemed to have “constructive notice” of the company's public documents;
- A party contracting with a director who acts on behalf of the company, however who does so beyond the scope of his powers (acts ultra vires), cannot therefore state that he did not have knowledge of the director's lack of authority to act or limitation;
- The company would not be bound by the contract, unless it chose to ratify it (or unless the director fraudulently did not disclose his limitation);
- On implementation of the new Act, the public will not deemed to be acquainted with or having knowledge of any provision of a company's MOI merely because it is filed with the Commission or is available for inspection at the company's office, except for the following two specific scenarios:

7.1 RING-FENCED

- S15(2)(a)(iii): A company's MOI may contain a provision which imposes on the company a higher standard, greater restriction, longer period of time or any similarly more onerous requirement than would otherwise apply to the company in terms of an unalterable provision of the Act;

- A company's MOI may also include any provision contemplated in S15(2)(b) to (c) – i.e it may:
 - ◆ S15(2)(b) – contain any restrictive conditions applicable to the company, and any requirements for the amendment of any such condition in addition to the requirements set out in section 16;
 - ◆ S15(2)(c) – prohibit the amendment of any particular provision of the MOI;
- The company is required to have the word Ring-Fenced or RF subjoined to it's name, and its Notice of Incorporation or subsequent Notice of Amendment is required to draw attention to the relevant provision and its location in the MOI;

All persons or the public are then regarded as having notice and knowledge of such a provision in the company's MOI;

Note that Section 15(2)(d) states that the MOI may not include any provision that negates, restricts, limits, qualifies, extends or otherwise alters the substance or effect of an unalterable provision of this Act, except to the extent contemplated in paragraph 2(a)(iii) – see above.

7.2 PERSONAL LIABILITY COMPANY

Defined per the Amendment Act as a “profit company that satisfies criteria in Section 8(2)(c)” (see page 47);

All persons are also regarded as having notice and knowledge of the fact that a personal liability company (incorporated) means that the directors and past directors are jointly and severally liable, together with the company, for any debts and liabilities of the company as are or were contracted during their respective periods of office;

*Pre-existing companies may thus need to identify specific conditions which may be applicable to them and if necessary register a name change (to RF) on implementation of the Act.

8. REMUNERATION

Section 66(9)

- Directors remuneration must be paid only in accordance with a special resolution approved by the shareholders within the previous two years [According to King 111 – this should only apply to non-executive directors];
- All companies will be required to pass such a resolution before the first remuneration is paid to directors after the Act becomes effective;
- Section 30 (4)-(6): If the Annual Financial Statements are required to be audited, they must contain extensive information about any remuneration received by a Director or prescribed officer as set out in the Act.

9. THE BOARD, COMMITTEES AND MEETINGS

Board Meetings (Section 73)

- Any director may call a board meeting at any time. A Board meeting is obligatory if called for by:
 - at least 2 of the directors; or
 - in the case of a Board with 12 or more directors, 25% of the directors require it;
- ◆ The MOI may specify a higher or lower number or percentage;
- ◆ The board may determine from time to time the requirement for notice for meetings, as long as this complies with the MOI or rules and no meeting may be convened without notice to all the directors;
- Board meetings may be held with certain or all the directors using electronic communication (EC), as long as the EC facility employed enables all persons participating in that meeting to communicate concurrently with each other without an intermediary and to participate effectively in that meeting (and as long as the MOI allows for it);
- A majority of the directors must be present in person or by electronic communication before a vote may be called at the meeting;
- Each director has one vote on a matter before the board, and a majority of votes cast on a resolution is sufficient to approve that resolution, and in the case of a tied vote, the chair may cast a deciding vote if he has not previously voted. In all other instances the motion is not carried.

Board Committees (Section 72)

- The Board may appoint any number of committees to deal with matters on the board's behalf [also recommended in King 111], or may consult with or receive advice from any person;
- The Board may appoint non-directors to a Committee; (as long as they are not disqualified or ineligible);
- Such persons shall not have a vote. The Board may delegate to the Committee any of the authority of the Board;
- The creation of a committee, delegation of authority or action taken does not alone satisfy or constitute compliance by a director with the required duty of a director to the company;

Statutory Committees:

- The Minister has by Regulation 43 prescribed that a listed public company or SOC Ltd or any other company that has in any two of the previous five years scored above 500 points in terms of Regulation 26(2) or would have so scored if the Act had been in effect at that time, are obliged to have a Social and Ethics committee (confirmed by King 111);
- See also pages 24 and 25 for circumstances where audit committees are mandated in terms of the Act.

10. ACCOUNTING RECORDS, FINANCIAL STATEMENTS, FINANCIAL REPORTING STANDARDS – AUDIT AND INDEPENDENT REVIEW

Some key provisions are as follows:

Section 28 Accounting records

- All companies must keep accurate and complete accounting records (see definition on page 38) in one of the official languages of RSA at its registered office (a) as necessary to enable the company to satisfy its obligations in terms of this Act or any other law with respect to the preparation of financial statements and (b) including any prescribed accounting records, which must be kept in the prescribed manner and form. It is an offence for a company to not adhere to these requirements – See Table J on page 48;
- Regulation 25(2) states that the accounting records must provide an adequate information base to (a) enable the company to satisfy all reporting requirements applicable to it, as set out in Section 28(1) read with Section 29(1), and (b) to provide for the compilation of financial statements, and the proper conduct of an audit, or independent review, of its annual financial statements, as applicable for that particular company;
- Regulation 25(3) sets out information / documentation that should be included in the accounting records of a company (see page 14);
- Accounting records may be kept in electronic format, subject to certain conditions – see Table J on page 48.

Section 29 Financial statements

- If a company provides any financial statements (including annual financial statements) to any person for any reason, these must satisfy the requirements as set out in Section 29(1) of the Act;

Any such statements must not be false or misleading in any material respect or incomplete in any material particular. If they are in the form of a summary, these summaries must comply with prescribed requirements for summaries. Non compliance is an offence;

Section 29(6): Subject to Section 214(2), it is an offence to prepare or be party to the preparation, approval, dissemination or publication of any financial statement (including any annual financial statements) as contemplated in Section 30, knowing that those statements fail in a material way to comply with the requirements as listed in Section 29(1), or are materially false or misleading. The Act places increased onus and liability on preparers of financial statements [Section 214(1)(d)].

Financial Reporting Standards

S29(4): The Minister after consulting with the Financial Reporting Standards Council (FRSC) may make regulations prescribing the financial reporting standards or the form and content requirements for summaries. Regulation 27 has been published in this regard.

 - (bb) the size of its workforce

Note: S30(7): The Minister may make regulations including different requirements for different categories of companies, prescribing (a) the categories of profit or non-profit companies that are required to have their annual financial statements audited as contemplated in subsection (2) (b)(i) and (b) the manner form and procedures for the conduct of an independent review under subsection (2)(b)(ii)(bb) as well as the professional qualifications, if any, and duties of persons who may conduct such reviews and the accreditation of professions whose members may conduct such reviews;

S30(8): inserted by the Amendment Act: Despite Section 1 of the Auditing Profession Act, an independent review of a company's AFS required by this section does not constitute an audit within the meaning of that Act.

S30(2A) of the Amendment Act: Exemption of Owner-Managed Companies

If, with respect to a particular company, every person who is a holder of, or has a beneficial interest in, any securities issued by that company is also a director of the company, that company is exempt from the requirements in this section to have its annual financial statements audited or independently reviewed, but this exemption –

- a) does not apply to the company if it falls into a class of company that is required to have its annual financial statements audited in terms of the regulations contemplated in subsection 7(a); and
- b) does not relieve the company of any requirement to have its financial statements audited or reviewed in terms of another law or in terms of any agreement to which the company is a party.

S30(3): The AFS must include an auditors report if the statements are audited, and a report by the directors with respect to the state of affairs, the business and profit or loss of the company or group of companies (if the company is part of a group) including any matter considered material in enabling the shareholders to appreciate the company's state of affairs, and any prescribed information, and be approved by the board and signed by an authorised director, and be presented to the first shareholders meeting after the statements have been approved by the board;

Section 76(5)(b): states that directors of a company may rely on information provided by accountants;

Regulation 26 sets out the criteria for determining the public interest score for purposes of Regulations 27 to 30, 43, 127 and 128. Every company must calculate its public interest score at the end of each financial year – which determines the scoring thresholds for determining which category of company requires an audit and the type of person allowed to perform an independent review, and which category of company requires a Social and Ethics Committee;

Regulation 28 sets out the categories of company required to be audited and Regulation 29 applies to the independent review of annual financial statements for certain categories of company.

- c) Directors – application to Court to declare a director delinquent or on probation (see Tables A and B which also list which stakeholders may bring such an application);
- d) Relief from oppressive or prejudicial conduct – application to court by a director or shareholder for relief.

2. Voluntary resolution of disputes – filing of complaint to Company Tribunal or Alternative Dispute Resolution Agent (accredited entity);

- King 111 – Directors should endeavour to resolve disputes by way of ADR so as to preserve business relationships – an emerging good governance trend.

3. Complaints to Commission or Take-Over Regulation Panel – a person can file a complaint with the Panel (relating to fundamental transactions, takeovers and offers) or Commission (regarding any other matter arising in terms of the Act) who may direct that an investigator conducts an investigation.

Administrative Fines

A court, on application by the Commission or Panel may impose an administrative fine – only for the failure to comply with a compliance notice (the court could also refer the matter to the National Prosecuting Authority for prosecution of an offence in terms of Section 214(3) but may not do both in respect of any particular compliance notice);

As set out in the Act, the amount of the fine in any particular case is to be determined having regard to several factors, and may not exceed the greater of –

- a) The maximum prescribed by the Minister – Regulation 163 prescribes as R1 000 000, and
- b) 10% of the respondent's turnover for the period during which the company failed to comply with the compliance notice.

Protection of whistle-blowers Section 159

- Any shareholder, director, company secretary, prescribed officer, employee, a registered trade union or other representative of the employees, supplier of goods or services to the company, or employee of such a supplier – who has reasonable grounds to suspect that the company or any of its directors or employees have contravened the Act, or a law mentioned in Schedule 4 or any statutory obligation or is engaged in conduct that has or is likely to endanger the health and safety of any individual or had harmed or was likely to harm the environment or has unfairly discriminated or condoned unfair discrimination in contravention of the Constitution or Unfair Discrimination Act 2000 or has contravened any other legislation that could expose the company to an actual or contingent risk of liability or is inherently prejudicial to the interests of the company and in good faith discloses this information to the Commission, Companies Tribunal, Panel, a regulatory authority, an exchange, legal adviser, a director, prescribed officer, company secretary, auditor, a person performing the function of an internal audit, board or committee of the company concerned, then that person (the whistle-blower), has qualified privilege in respect of that disclosure and will be immune from any civil, criminal or administrative liability for that disclosure, if the conditions set out in S159 are met;
- If a person who has made such a disclosure is subjected to express or implied threats or conduct that causes detriment to him/her by any other person, then (s)he will be entitled to compensation for damages suffered;
- Any provision of a company's MOI or an agreement is void to the extent it purports to limit or negate this Section 159;
- A public company and SOC Ltd must establish a system for confidential disclosures.

14. EASIER ACCESS TO REMEDIES PROVIDED BY THE ACT

- A new body, the Company Tribunal is created by the Act, and any stakeholder, including a shareholder has free recourse to lay a complaint against a Director or company with the Tribunal;

- Section 165 of the new Act allows for a general derivative notice whereby an aggrieved party, such as a shareholder, director or even a representative of a trade union to send a notice to the company to enforce its rights and to demand to protect its or the company's legal interests;
- Section 20(6) – provides a specific remedy for shareholders – each shareholder of a company has a claim for damages against any person, including a Director, who intentionally, fraudulently or due to gross negligence causes the company to do anything inconsistent with the Act or a limitation, restriction or qualification in the MOI, unless the action has been ratified by shareholders by special resolution;
- Section 218(2) – provides a general remedy to any person, stakeholder – including a shareholder to bring a civil action against a person who contravenes the Act for any loss or damages suffered by that person as a result of that contravention;
- Section 81(1)(d) – gives significant power to minority shareholders – the section states that one or more shareholder(s) may apply to court for the winding up of a solvent company on the grounds that either:
 - ◆ the directors are deadlocked in the management of the company and the shareholders are unable to break the deadlock which is causing irreparable injury to the company or the company's business cannot be conducted to the advantage of shareholders generally as a result of the deadlock or
 - ◆ on the basis that the shareholders are deadlocked in voting power and have failed for a period that includes at least two consecutive annual general meeting dates, to elect successors to directors whose terms have expired or
 - ◆ it is otherwise just and equitable for the company to be wound up.
- Section 81(1)(e) – provides that one or more shareholders can apply to wind up a solvent company if the directors or prescribed officers or other persons in control of the company are acting in a manner that is fraudulent, or illegal or that the company's assets are being misapplied or wasted;
- Section 163 – a shareholder or director may apply to court for relief if, inter alia:
- S163(1)(c) – the powers of a director or prescribed officer or a person related to the company are being exercised in a manner that is oppressive or unfairly prejudicial to or that unfairly disregards the interests of the applicant;
- Section 157: extends the ambit for a person to bring an action in terms of the Act, in other words, an application to a court, the Tribunal, the Panel or the Commission can be exercised by any person directly contemplated in the Act, or a person acting on behalf of such a person (who cannot act in their own name), or by a person acting as a member of or in the interests of a group or class of affected persons or an association acting in the interest of its members or a person acting in the public interest (with the leave of the court);

[Schedule 5, Item 7(5)]

- In addition, the right of a person to seek a remedy in terms of the new Act will apply in respect of conduct pertaining to a pre-existing company which occurred prior to the effective date, (i.e retrospectively) if that person did not institute proceedings before the effective date [Schedule 5, Item 7(7)].

15. LIABILITY OF DIRECTORS

The Act sets out the circumstances in which a Director can be held liable for loss, damages or costs of the company, incur civil liability to shareholders and third parties and/or criminal sanctions.

CRIMINAL LIABILITY

- The Act aims to de-criminalise sanctions where possible and rather to enforce company law administratively via the appropriate bodies listed on pages 27-28;
- There are very few remaining offences – only those arising out of a refusal to respond to a summons, to give evidence and perjury;
- In addition, in order to improve corporate accountability, the Act (Section 216) states that it will be an offence, punishable by a fine or up to ten years imprisonment (or both) for a director to:

(Section 213):

commit a breach of confidence or

(Section 214): False statements, reckless conduct and non-compliance

- (1)(a) who is party to the falsification of any accounting records of a company or
- (1)(b) with a fraudulent purpose knowingly (see definition on page 39) provided false or misleading information or

- (1)(d) is a party to the preparation, approval, dissemination or publication of a prospectus or a written statement contemplated in Section 101, that contains an untrue statement as defined and described in Section 95.

Section 214(3) it is an offence to fail to satisfy a compliance notice issued in terms of this Act, however should an administrative fine have been imposed by a court in respect of the non-compliance, then no person can also be prosecuted for such an offence;

Section 214(4) [inserted by the Amendment Act] states that a person who contravenes Section 99(1) to (9) (which deals with general restrictions on offers to the public) – and if that person is a company, every director or prescribed officer of the company who knowingly was a party to the contravention is (a) guilty of an offence and (b) liable to any other person for any losses sustained as a consequence of that contravention;

- Such offences may also lead to directors also incurring civil liability;
- All other offences – fine or imprisonment up to twelve months (or both).

A director, is liable generally for:

- A breach of fiduciary duty (in accordance with the common law principles relating thereto), for any losses damages or cost sustained by the company from breach of Sections 75, 76(2), 76(3)(a) or (b) (relating to non-disclosure of personal financial interests, misusing the position as director to gain personal advantage, or not acting in good faith and for proper purpose or in the best interests of the company);

- in accordance with the principles of common law relating to delict for any loss, damages or costs sustained by the company as a consequence of any breach by the director of a duty contemplated in Section 76(3)(c) [acting with the degree of care, skill and diligence that may be reasonably expected of such a person], or a duty as set out per the MOI, or any provision of the Act not otherwise mentioned in Section 77;
- the code of conduct for directors as set out in Section 76 of the Act is extended to members of committees even if the member is not a director on the board, and thus the consequent liability relating to the transgression of any such duties will also apply to members of the committees;

Section 77(3) sets out specific liabilities as follows:

Directors are liable for loss, damages or costs sustained by the company as a direct or indirect consequence of the director having:

- S77(3)(a) - acted in the name of the company despite knowing he did not have the authority to do so;
- S77(3)(b) - acquiescing to carrying on of company's business despite knowing that it was being conducted contra to Section 22 (reckless trading);
- S77(3)(c) - party to an act or omission by the company despite knowing that it was calculated to defraud a creditor, employee or shareholder, or had another fraudulent purpose;
- S77(3)(d) for signing or consenting to the publication of any financial statements that were false or misleading in a material respect or a prospectus which contained an untrue statement, despite knowing that the statement was false, misleading or untrue, [subject to S104 (3) - liability will not attach if there were reasonable grounds for the director to believe the statement was true];
- S77(3)(e) for being present at a meeting or for knowingly consenting to or failing to vote against:
 - (i) the issue of unauthorised shares, which had not been authorised;
 - (ii) the issuing of authorised securities despite knowing that such issue was inconsistent with Section 41;
 - (iii) for granting unauthorised options;
 - (iv) the provision of financial assistance to any person contemplated in S44 for the acquisition of securities of the company despite knowing that the provision was inconsistent with S44 or the company's MOI;
 - (v) the provision of financial assistance to a director for a purpose contemplated in S45 despite knowing that the provision of financial assistance was inconsistent with that section or the company's MOI;
 - (vi) a resolution approving a distribution despite knowing that the distribution was contrary to S46;
 - (vii) the acquisition by the company of any of its shares or the shares of its holding company despite knowing that the acquisition was contrary to S46 or 48;
 - (viii) an allotment by the company despite knowing that the allotment was contrary to any provision of Chapter 4 of the Act.

The liability that is incurred in terms of Section 77 is joint and several with any other person who may be held liable for the same act, and director in Section 77 includes an alternate director, prescribed officer, a person who is a member of a committee of a board of a company, or of the audit committee of a company irrespective of whether or not the person is also a member of the company's board. Any person with a claim can thus bring it against all the Directors or any one particular Director. Action to recover loss, damages or costs may not commence more than three years after the act or omission;

- Section 20 (4) and (5):

- This section allows one or more shareholders, directors or prescribed officers or trade union representing employees of the company may apply to the High Court for an appropriate order to restrain a company from doing anything inconsistent with the Act, or that is inconsistent with any of the limits, restrictions or qualifications of the MOI, (without prejudice to any rights to damages of a third party who obtained such rights in good faith and did not have actual knowledge of the limit, restriction or qualification);
- Each shareholder may have a claim for damages (a personal claim) against any person including a director who intentionally, fraudulently or due to gross negligence causes the company to do anything inconsistent with the Act, or any limitation, restriction or qualification in terms the MOI (unless the action has been ratified by shareholders). (Note: An action may not be ratified if it is in contravention of the Act).

- Section 218 Civil actions:

- A shareholder (and any other stakeholder) can also have a claim against the directors or any person who contravenes the Act for damages for any loss or damaged suffered as a result of that contravention – i.e the action does not need to be fraudulent or carried out with gross negligence for a valid claim in terms of this Section.

Sections 20 and 218 of the Act enable shareholders to sue directors/officers for civil damages, or any losses suffered by them.

Note: If a company is a personal liability company the directors and past directors are jointly and severally liable together with the company for any debts and liabilities of the company as are or where contracted during their respective periods of office [Section 19(3)].

The Act does however provide some form of relief to Directors – by way of Indemnity and Insurance for Directors (see next section).

In addition – in terms of the Act a possible defence is open to a Director who asserts that he/she had no financial conflict, was reasonably informed and made a rational business decision in the circumstances – known as “the business judgement rule” See second half of Table C on page 42.

16. INDEMNIFICATION AND DIRECTORS' INSURANCE

Section 78(2): Director may not be relieved of liability

- Any agreement, provision in the MOI, or rules of the company, or resolution which directly or indirectly relieves a director of liability in regard to the duties contemplated in sections 75 and 76 and liability contemplated in section 77 or which serves to negate, limit or restrict any legal consequence arising from the act or omission that constitutes wilful misconduct or wilful breach of trust on the part of the director, is void.

Section 78(3): Indemnity of directors/Company may advance legal expenses:

The provisions of this section are in addition to any common law consistent with the section;

A company may, if authorised in its MOI:

- a) advance expenses to a director to defend litigation in any proceedings arising out of his/her service to the company;
- b) directly or indirectly indemnify the director for expenses as per (a) above irrespective of whether it has advanced those expenses if the proceedings are (i) abandoned or exculpate the director or (ii) arise in respect of any liability for which the company may indemnify the director in terms of subsection (5) and (6);

However the company may not so indemnify the director if:

(i) the director has had proceedings instituted against him/her regarding Sections 77(3)(a) to (c) [see para above i.e for circumstances where liability arose as a result of the directors failure to act in good faith and for a proper purpose or in the best interests of the company or with the degree of care, skill and diligence required] or for (ii) willful misconduct or breach of trust (unless (s)he has been exculpated);

A company may not indirectly or directly pay any fine* that may be imposed on the director or on a director of a related company as a consequence of that director having been convicted of an offence, unless the conviction was based on strict liability, subject to subsection 3A, (Amendment Act) – see Table F page 45;

A company may not indemnify a director of liability arising from Section 77(3) (a), (b) or (c) – see page 31 – or from wilful misconduct or wilful breach of trust or in terms of any fine as per * above.

Section 78(7): Directors' Insurance:

The company may purchase insurance to protect the company, or the director against liability and expenses as contemplated in this section.

[Schedule 5, Item 4 of the Act]

THE MOI

- A pre-existing company may file within two years of the general effective date of the new Act (without charge) an amendment to its MOI to harmonise it with the Act, in other words, there will be a two year “grace period” for all pre-existing companies to harmonise themselves with the Act;
- The following provisions of the new Act however, will apply immediately as from 1 May 2011 to all pre-existing companies {irrespective of what is stated in the company's MOI}, in other words no “grace” period is afforded to company's in regard to the following:

- a) the provisions of the previous Act continue to apply with respect to the publishing, audit and approval of those statements, and
- b) the provisions of the new Act will apply to each subsequent financial year end and annual financial statements of that company.

18. MEMBERS OF CLOSE CORPORATIONS (CC'S) AND CORPORATE GOVERNANCE

On 1 May 2011, the Close Corporations Act 69 of 1984 (CC's Act) will be amended as provided for in Schedules 3 and 5 of the Act.

In regard to CC's that continue to exist after 1 May 2011, and which do not convert to a private company, the remaining (existing and un-amended) provisions of the CC's Act will apply.

Some key amendments brought about by the Act are:

- Existing CC's at 1 May 2011 will continue to exist indefinitely, or until such time as their members may determine that it is in their interest to convert to a company;
- No new CC's will be able to be registered, and no company converted to a CC, as of 1 May 2011.

Conversion of CC to Company

- Existing CC's may convert to a company by filing a Notice of Conversion to the Commission, (Regulation 18), together with the following documentation:
 - a) a written statement of consent approving the conversion of the CC signed by members of the CC holding in aggregate at least 75% of the members' interest in the CC;
 - b) a MOI consistent with the requirements of the Act;
 - c) the prescribed filing fee (it is proposed that for the first three years after implementation of the Act, if the CC retains its same name, there will be a Nil filing fee).
- Every member of a converted CC is entitled to become a shareholder of the company, but the shares to be held in the company by the shareholders individually need not necessarily be in proportion to the members' interests as stated in the founding statement of the CC;

Financial Statements and accounting records of CC's

- The same requirements as per Section 28, 29, 30 (see Section 10 on page 21) apply to CC's;
- The CC may also voluntarily make the enhanced accountability and transparency provisions of Chapter 3 applicable;

Business Rescue and winding up of CC's

- Chapter 6 will also apply to CC's (Business Rescue);

Transparency and accountability of CC's

- Section 10 of the CC's Act is amended by the insertion of the following:

 - ◆ Section 62 of the CC's Act is amended to include – Section 34(2) of the Companies Act apply to a CC, and Chapter 3 also applies to CC's where it has voluntarily determined to take action contemplated in Section 34(3) of the Companies Act.

Reckless or Fraudulent Trading – Section 64 of the CC's Act

- If at any time the business of the CC is being carried on
- recklessly, with gross negligence; or
- with the intent to defraud any person, a court may declare any person who is party to the carrying on of the business in such manner, liable for all or any of the debts of the CC. This Section has been amended by Schedule 3 of the Companies Act – every person who is knowingly a party to the carrying on of the business in any such manner, shall be guilty of an offence.

Sections 3(1), 11, 16, 22(2) and (4), 41, 47(7), 49(5), 55 and 58(4) of the CC's Act are repealed – Schedule 3.

19. A BRIEF OVERVIEW OF KING 111

- The King 111 report and code of Governance came into effect on 1 March 2010;
- It is not a legislated document but rather a statement of principles of “best practice” – it does not have legal force;
- However, as certain aspects of governance are legislated (Companies Act 2008, and the Public Finance Management Act) the use of instructive language is relevant i.e where the Code uses the word “must” – this indicates a legal requirement, and “should” indicates that an application of the principle will result in good governance (voluntary) and “may” indicates areas where the King Committee has recommended certain practices for consideration;
- As far as the JSE Securities Exchange South Africa (JSE) is concerned, listed companies must adhere to the King Report recommendations or indicate the extent to which they have deviated from them;
- The Code recommends that all entities should by way of explanation make a positive statement about how the principles have been applied or not – which disclosure will allow stakeholders (including shareholders) to comment on and challenge the Board on the quality of its governance – an “apply or explain” theory;
- Although the Code is not legally enforceable, Directors (and other office bearers) should view it as a valuable guide to good corporate governance so as to ensure compliance with their statutory duties as set out in the Act;
- King 111 applies to all entities regardless of the manner and form of incorporation or establishment and whether in the public, private sectors or non-profit sectors (unlike King 1 and 11).

20. KEY ASPECTS OF KING 111

1. Effective leadership

- Good governance is effectively about effective leadership – characterised by the ethical values of responsibility, accountability, fairness and transparency and based on the moral duties that find expression in the concept of Ubuntu.

2. Sustainability

- The primary moral and economic imperative of the 21st century;
- A company should develop a strategy to include accounting for sustainability issues and reporting these to stakeholders.

3. Corporate citizenship

- The company is a person and should operate in a sustainable manner – the company should be seen as a responsible “citizen” – involving social, environmental and economic issues – respect for human rights, effective management of stakeholder relationships, resource management with an eye on future needs, and ensuring a positive impact on the community within which it operates.

Emerging governance trends incorporated in the Report are Alternative Dispute Resolution (Principle 8.6), Risk based internal audit (Principle 7), Shareholders and remuneration (Principle 2.25), Evaluation of board and director performance (Principle 2.22),

New issues in the Report are IT Governance (Principle 5), and Business Rescue (Principle 2.15).

The King Code and Report is divided into 9 Principles (Chapters), as follows:

- Ethical leadership and corporate citizenship;
- Boards and Directors;
- Audit Committees;
- The governance of risk;
- The governance of information technology (IT);
- Compliance with laws, rules, codes and standards;
- Risk-based Internal audit;
- Governing stakeholder relationships (Alternative Dispute Resolution);
- Integrated reporting and disclosure.

THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS (According To King 111)

Operation of the Board

Responsibilities

- responsible for corporate governance and has two main functions: to determine the companies strategic direction and responsibility for control of the company;
- ensure management actively cultivates a culture of ethical conduct and sets the values to which the company will adhere – values to be incorporated into a code of conduct;

- to consider the legitimate interests and expectations of the company's stakeholders in its deliberations, decisions and actions, and to communicate relevant matters to all stakeholders via press releases, to appreciate that stakeholders' perceptions affect a company's reputation;
- ensure that disputes are resolved as effectively, efficiently and expeditiously as possible, and adopt a formal ADR process for internal and external disputes;
- to ensure that the company is seen to be a responsible corporate citizen;
- to ensure that the company has an effective and independent audit committee (where applicable);
- to be responsible for information technology (IT governance) – to be vested in the board in much the same way as risk governance is. The board has the duty and responsibility (as part of their duty of care) to ensure that the company's IT systems and information integrity are protected, maintained and continually assessed (and subject to risk management);
- ensure that the company complies with applicable laws and regulations and considers adherence to non-binding rules, codes and standards – and ensure that each individual director has a working understanding of the relevant laws, rules, codes and standards of the company and its business, delegate to management the implementation of effective compliance framework and processes;
- ensure that there is an effective risk-based internal audit-monitor effectiveness of company's system of internal control and risk management;
- Integrated reporting and disclosure – ensure the integrity of the company's integrated report – a holistic and integrated representation of the company's performance in terms of both its finances and its sustainability;
- A formal process of assurance with regard to sustainability reporting should be established – i.e reporting not only from a financial perspective but also from an ethical, social and environmental perspective – the well known “triple bottom line” method of reporting. King 111 takes this concept further and introduces the concept of the integrated report – whereby companies publish an integrated report focusing equally on financial, governance, strategy and sustainability issues – providing an overall picture of the company and a “true” value of it economically;
- act in the best interests of the company;
- consider business rescue proceedings as soon as the company is financially distressed;
- review of management goals and plans;
- responsible for the governance of risk through formal processes and that risk assessments are performed on a continual basis, and that continual risk monitoring is being done by management.

Appointments

- Board appointments – formal and transparent, shareholders ultimately responsible for the composition of the board;
- Appointment of the CEO – being an Executive Director – not a member of any audit, remuneration or nomination committee;
- The positions of CEO and Chairman should be separated.

Rights

- Receive all reports timeously;
- Access to independent consultants;
- Unrestricted access to company information.

Functions

- The majority of directors to be non-executive, who are also independent – minimum of two Executive Directors – [being the CEO and director responsible for finance];
- The non-executive directors should have sufficient experience and skill (which must be determined before their appointment);
- Director development through induction and on-going training programmes;
- Assisted by a company secretary (compulsory for SOC (Ltd)'s and public companies);
- Performance assessments – evaluation of board, its committees and individual directors (including Chairman) annually;
- Delegation of certain functions to well structured committees without abdicating its own responsibilities.

Remuneration

- Director's remuneration to be transparent and fair;
- Companies should disclose the remuneration of each individual director and certain senior executives (the three most highly paid senior employees who are not directors) giving details of base pay, bonuses, share-based payments, granting of options or rights, restraint payments and all other benefits (including present values of existing future awards);
- Shareholders to approve the company's remuneration policy.
