

Baker Tilly International Named Network of the Year at the IAB Awards

Last night, the International Accounting Bulletin (IAB) named Baker Tilly International 'Network of the Year' at their annual award ceremony.

This is a great achievement for us collectively as a network, and a valuable independent endorsement of our successful growth strategy. It is also well deserved recognition for each of you, our member firms: ultimately it is your growth, drive and delivery of exceptional client service that have earned us international recognition.

and Paul Ginman, COO

The awards were judged by an independent panel. Networks had to demonstrate the execution of profitable growth strategies during the past 12 months and had to have excelled in a number of key strategic and operational areas. They also had to be recognised by the industry as a reputable brand that consistently delivers high quality professional services.

It was a tightly fought category, with us beating RSM International into second place.

Judges praised the network's innovation in our adoption of Global Focus, our new audit methodology, and on being the first network to have achieved the ACCA Approved Employer status award in professional development.
